women should be assured that it is highly effective if taken correctly and within 72 hours (three days) of unprotected intercourse.

The leading ideas would reduce the government involvement in housing finance, which would mean higher rates for consumers."